

Sgt Carter and The Two Lesleys

Sgt Dick Carter from Reading is about to move into C.I.D in Banbury

On his last weekend in uniform, he is to maintain law and order while the rest of the police attend a grudge football match between Banbury Town and Brackley Town.

Saturday evenings always starts off with two rival gangs facing each other either side of the High St, and the latest gang members are pushed into the middle to start the entertainment.

The gang from London ride scooters and have mostly moved up from the East End

The gang from Birmingham ride bikes and have moved down with Birds

Sgt Carter read the riot act to the assembled gangs and marches the two Ls up to the Cross and gives them an option

Lesley (with parka) trains as a mechanic and becomes manager of a tyre fitting establishment in town

Lesley (with leathers) trains as a bookkeeper and marries the son of a local farmer